Appropriate Exercises.

Arbor Day is being celebrated appropriately to-day in all of the city schools, and 150,000 children will learn about trees and plants and their uses in the economy of nature and in the aris and sciences.

There is little opportunity for planting trees in the city, though saplings are set out in the lart, while the body of his child in its arms, walked to and fro with his wile, Katharine, while the fire was burning up their home.
